

TPG Appoints Joseph Konzelmann as Partner in Fundraising

Konzelmann will serve as the Firm's Head of Fundraising for the Eastern U.S., Canada, Europe, and the Middle East

San Francisco and Fort Worth, Texas – June 1, 2020 –TPG, a global alternative asset firm, announced today that Joseph Konzelmann has joined the firm as a Partner and Head of Fundraising for the Eastern U.S., Canada, Europe, and the Middle East. Konzelmann will lead TPG's fundraising activities in these regions, working closely with the firm's local coverage teams to expand and deepen its limited partner relationships. He will also help drive strategic client dialogue and solutions across TPG's platforms. Konzelmann is based in New York.

"Over the years, TPG has developed a diversified platform that delivers innovative investment solutions to many of the world's largest and most important institutions," said Konzelmann. "The firm has established a robust mandate for growth with its entrepreneurial culture, global reach, strong commitment to client service, and early leadership in critical areas such as ESG and impact investing. I am thrilled to join such a talented team and look forward to helping expand the firm's partnerships with investors across the globe."

Konzelmann joins TPG after 13 years at Goldman Sachs, where he most recently served as Managing Director and Senior Sovereigns Strategist. He brings experience working with clients globally on capital raising, investment solutions, and geopolitical advisory. Prior to Goldman Sachs, Konzelmann served in the U.S. Government on the Joint Iraq Economic Task Force and on General David Petraeus' Joint Strategic Assessment Team for US Central Command. He was also a senior advisor to Afghanistan's former Minister of Finance and current President Ashraf Ghani. Konzelmann began his career in the Middle East Division of the Central Intelligence Agency.

"Joseph's leadership in the geopolitical arena, international policy expertise, and understanding of the alternatives landscape will be incredibly valuable to our platform, particularly as we work to navigate today's unprecedented and evolving global environment," said Jon Winkelried, Co-CEO of TPG. "We look forward to leveraging his skillset as we continue to deploy capital, serve our clients, and support and grow a globally engaged organization."

"Joseph's strategic mindset and strong connectivity to the global investor community make him a great addition to the firm," said Stephen Bamford, Global Head of Fundraising at TPG. "His deep knowledge of the capital raising process will be instrumental as we continue to grow our platform and build on our mission to deliver differentiated value to our investors and their beneficiaries."

Konzelmann earned an M.A. with honors from the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service, and an A.B. with honors from Harvard College. He was selected as a Young Global Leader by the World Economic Forum in 2019.

About TPG

TPG is a global investment firm that is dedicated to delivering differentiated returns for our investors and their beneficiaries, and we are committed to doing so with integrity. Our investment strategy embraces change, takes on complexity, and creates unique opportunities. Over our more than 25-year history, we have built an ecosystem made up of hundreds of portfolio companies and a value-added network of professionals, executives, and advisors around the world. This ecosystem drives insight and engagement, which are critical to our approach to investing, value creation, and culture. The value we place on insight is reflected in the rigor of our investment process and our deep, research-based approach to theme and sector development. We are active investors and engage deeply with our portfolio companies, bringing skilled executives and operating professionals to add value beyond capital and drive long-term performance. Our success depends on our people, and we build and sustain our world-class team by creating an inclusive, supportive culture within TPG that seeks excellence and encourages humility and transparency. To learn more, visit TPG's website at www.tpg.com and on Twitter @TPG.

Media Contact

Luke Barrett
media@tpg.com